Fall 1999 Events

The fall events this year were well planned and professionally executed. The Student Centers made vehement efforts toward quality fun and good times that taught us lessons of appreciation for that which is different from ourselves. With support from the Student Arts and Events Council all the student groups provided educational entertainment that helps us appreciate the multi-culturalism of our collegiate community.

Ain't it always the case?

The Heart of it All

You can't say 'student life at UMB' without mentioning the Student Arts and Events Council. This organization distributes funding for almost all the events that other organizations spearhead, and even throws bashes of their own.

This year's fall Semester Slam was a huge success. Students lined up by the hundreds to get free 'eats' and share in conversation.

The SAEC plays a critical role in the student life of UMB. Their financial support and leadership make many events here at UMass Boston not only better, but possible.

Often, as with any commuter school, be it two-year or four-year, a large problem is a sense of community and recreation. We find many students leaving other commuter schools due to lack of the aforementioned qualities.

Under the advising of Mr. Bob Cole, Tracy Clements and Jason Kravetz, the program coordinators, have helped make UMB a commuter university with a sense of community and recreation. UMB's success as a commuter school is in large part due to the guest speakers, workshops, university sponsored trips, and social gatherings that would not be possible without SAEC.

SVU plays Key Role in Student Activities at UMB

The Student Veteran's Union played an active role in the fall events for 1999. As the only organization to comply with the administration's request to participate in the Homecoming festivities, the SVU provided all the attendees to Homecoming with free "slushies".

On October 23, the SVU had their 5th annual Tailgate party, providing food and beverages to all that wanted to eat. The SVU's sense of pride and commitment to being active in the UMB student life was, again, made evident through their generosity and good nature.

The SVU's sense of pride and commitment to being active in the UMB student life was made evident through their generosity and good nature.

On November 10th, Veteran's Day, the SVU sponsored a memorial procession to the Dorchester Vietnam Memorial, followed by a post-event open house. Included in this procession were the Boston Fire Department's Color Guard and the Air National Guard's Honor Guard from Otis National Air Base in Bourne, Massachusetts. The Boston Crusaders, Senior Division, provided bugler Jim Hayes to play taps. This event was the pinnacle of organization and professionalism in the fall events this year.

The Student Veteran's Union administration has brought the same level of pride and seriousness to this organization that we respect them for as veterans. All of the year-book staff thanks The SVU, on behalf of the students and faculty at UMB, for providing the school with a sense of pride and community. They not only manifested the attributes of the Men and Women (capitalized intentionally) that make up our Armed Forces, but also the personal attributes of great people we like to think our country is made of.

The Preacher on the Hill

Photos and Story By: Christopher L. Garner

This semester offered something that most people, including myself, had never seen before. Like legendary days of old, a man climbed to the top of the hill on the common carrying a Bible and speaking his mind. Many of the students did not pay attention at first figuring that this man would go away. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

This man, who only said his name once (and I missed it), began to talk about some of the most controversial topics that our society could garner. He began openly discussing abortion, masturbation, and drug use.

After attempting to ignore him, which obviously didn't work, some students took the counter approach of challenging him on his topics and being as much of a spectacle as he was. Some students cursed and waived their fists, telling him that he did not belong talking about these topics in public. Other students asked questions to perhaps turn the mirror on him, so to speak.

Just as the crowd began to become bellicose the police escorted him away from the scene. Rumor had it that he had been to several other campuses where he was assaulted and he needed to be protected by the same people that removed him. But this story isn't over.

Within a few minutes, he was back. Then, he caught everyone's attention by stopping his performance and saying, "You're still here..." He had a point.

Regardless of his views, whether he was right or wrong, closed or open-minded, he got people thinking and talking. This man had a great presence and was an amazing performer. When some students tried to outdo him, by handing him a condom, he took it in-stride and used it to further his cause.

But the most valuable lessons to be learned were freedom and participation. Many of us walk around, discussing political and social issues in the security of our friends. However, very few of us would have the gall to stand in front of a crowd and at least attempt to change the world for the way we thought was best. Even those who claim to have the courage to do this must admit that doing it is one thing and doing it well enough to hold the crowd's attention, for 2 hours is another.

A man doing the best he can, the way he thinks he should. The right to free speech is something that we take for granted now a day. Perhaps, if nothing else, this man helped us see something that we should thank whatever is holy to us that we have the ability to do: get up in the morning and voice our opinion. Maybe this man will help us see that the only way things get better is when we make them better.

Casa Latina: Leaders Behind the Scenes

Casa Latina has a reputation for sharing a variety of exotic Latino music, dance, it's cozy space on the fourth floor of the Wheatley Building and lots of delicious food. The events sponsored by Casa Latina during the fall semester lived up to their well known reputation.

Casa Latina began the semester with an open house to welcome new and returning students with music, munchies, and the introduction of the coordinator and board members. The 4th Annual Latino Multicultural Festival, a collaboration of Casa Latina and the Latino Coalition, was a huge success with over a dozen Latino groups performing a traditional dance from their country of origin. Maria Diaz and Joel Mora hosted the event and kept the audience hyped up for more. A poetry night was started and proven to be a hit with students signing up to share inspirational words.

Casa Latina played a fundamental role in the Gaston Institute's Speaker Series and co-sponsored guest speaker Ron Daniels, one of the highlights of the Fall semester, which provided invaluable insight in the struggle against racism, hate crimes and police brutality.

Casa Latina represents the rich and diverse Latino culture. The integration of the social, political and artistic perspectives of the Latino culture makes Casa Latina the place to be.

A featured speaker:

Kenny Fries

As part of the Disability Awareness Month, several of the University's primary centers for student with disabilities funded and organized the arrival of the distinguished orator, Kenny Fries. The offices of Affirmative Action, the Vice Provost for Academic Support Services, the Ross Center for Disability Services, the Center for Students with disABILITIES, and Project R.E.A.C.H. all came together in order to make this event possible.

Kenny Fries is a well-accomplished poet, author, lecturer and advocate for disability awareness. He has spoken on awareness in many political forums as well as social and educational forums.

Fries was born with "congenital deformities to the lower extremities". His book, "Body, Remember", is a brutally honest view at his attempts at dealing with being gay, Jewish and disabled. If there is anything this man knows, it is struggle. Through adversity, however, Fries has built incredible character.

He is an associate professor at Goddard College in Plainfield, Vermont. He teaches in the graduate writing program. Fries went to Brandeis University and received his undergraduate degree in English and American Literature. He later went on to receive his master's degree from Columbia University in Playwriting.

Kenny Fries gave all those who were willing to listen a view into the life of a man who lives, breathes and sleeps adversity. He spoke about his life, disabilities and the way that society needed to deal with disabled peoples.

Kenny Fries provided a unique paradigm on life. He used his life experiences to motivate himself. He shared those experiences with UMB, and allowed all of us to reflect on our own struggles and how we can find solace in them.

The yearbook staff thanks all the parties involved in this presentation for their hard work and incredible foresight. The presentation by Kenny Fries proved to be one of the most positive experiences this fall and is an excellent example of how organizations, on and off campus, can utilize their resources for the good of the community.

Guest speakers provide insight to hundreds of students.

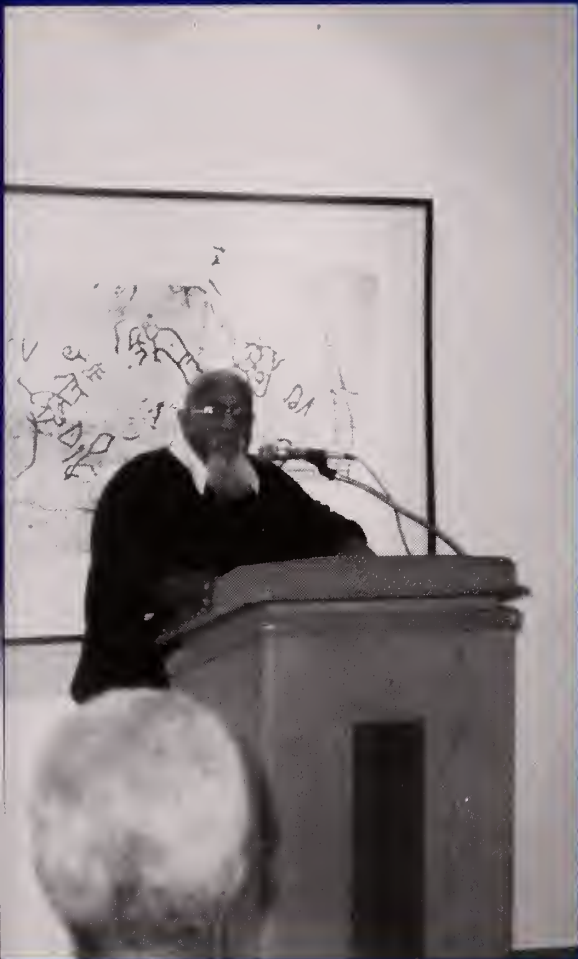

By Christopher L. Garner

As always, the Black Student Center had a series of interesting, powerful, orators that entranced us all with their rhetoric and dialog. Their original and new ideas regarding racism and the discrimination against black people in the United States was profoundly enlightening. They had so much to say about how the system of our country has purposely and maliciously forced their people into urban communities over-run with disease and poverty.

With the guidance they receive from the amazing foresight and intervention techniques of Bob Cole (below with legs crossed) the BSC has helped people of all races come together by pointing out they are worse off than everyone and how the world can benefit from the input of their collective experience.

I hope one day that all people can stand and talk about their rights, heritage, collective experiences and their beliefs, but for now the BSC will have to do it for those that can't.

The Candlelight Vigil

On Wednesday the 1st of December at 2:30 the Alcohol and Addiction Resource Center sponsored a candlelight vigil with support from the Women's Center, the Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Center and SAEC. The vigil was in commemoration of those lives that have been affected by addiction, HIV, domestic violence, and hate crimes.

The impressive turnout consisting of students and professors of UMass was testimony that the impulse to help those in need prospers on campus. Robert Mello, Coordinator of the Alcohol and Addiction Resource Center touched the gatherers with a poignant speech that emphasized the ability of humans to learn from their suffering: "Suffering challenges us at times" he said "and brings out those admirable qualities within us that we did not know we possessed; qualities such as fortitude, empathy, and sensitivity."

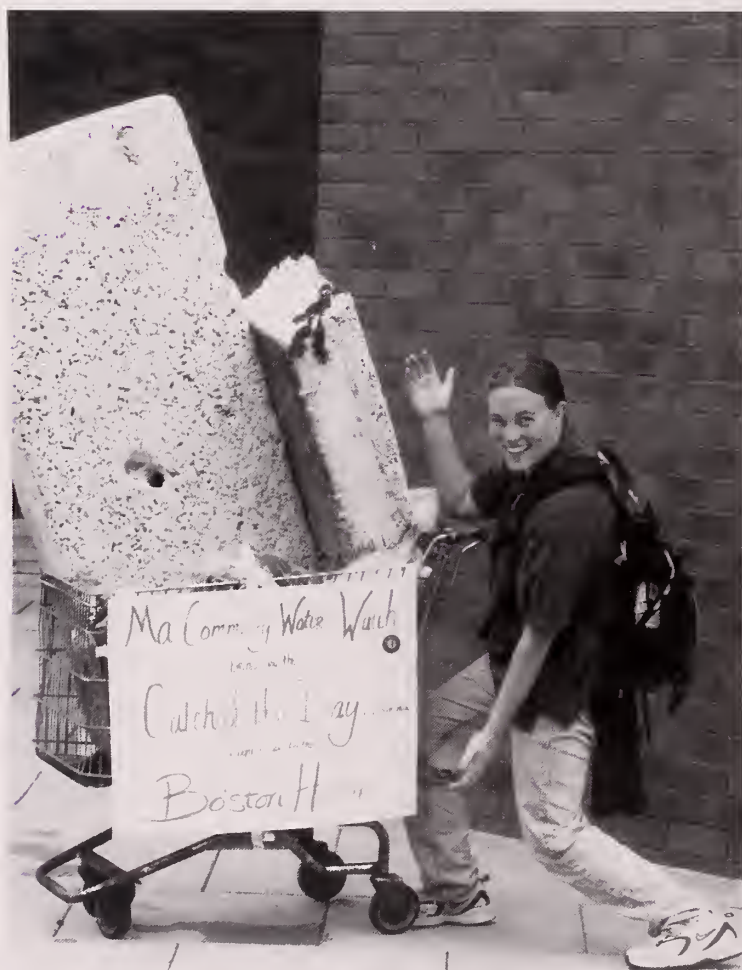

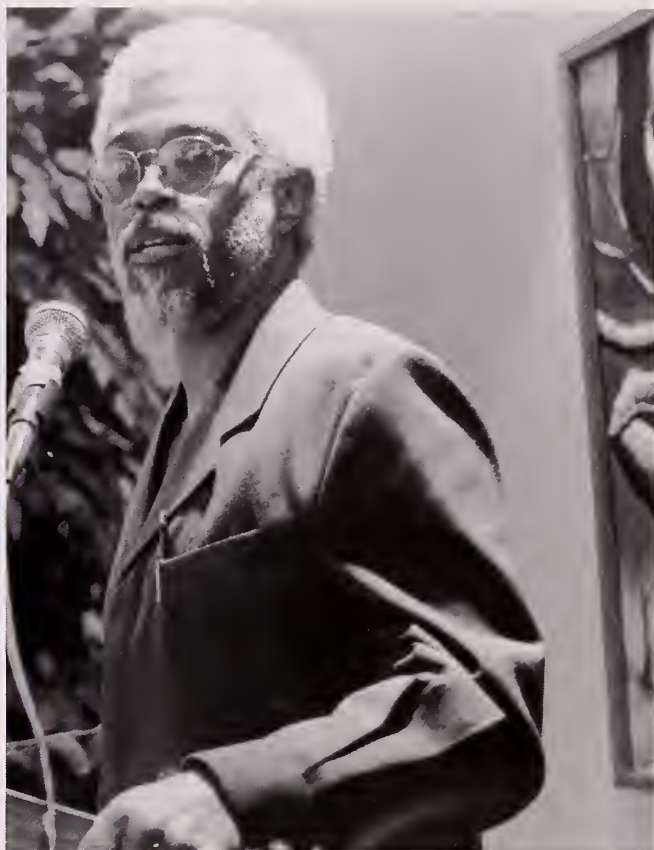

A moment of silence was offered to those who have been affected by suffering. Susan Miron mesmerized the audience with the soothing notes of her harp. In conclusion, Robert Mello had this to say: "Let the light that we have offered serve as a beacon for all those who have suffered and continue to suffer. Let it guide them through the turbulent waters of hardship and deliver them safely to the shores of a paradise brimming with possibility. Although the light of these candles must eventually be extinguished, no one can put out the irrepressible light that shines within each and every one of us." It is of great consolation to know that despite the excess of violence that has characterized this century, the power of the community to come together and selflessly perform an act of goodness will conquer any darkness that we might experience."

Administration

In the course of our schooling, through trials and tribulations, through scholastic and personal challenges we often take for granted how much time and effort goes into providing the students of any university with the quality education that they receive.

When one takes into account the quantitative and qualitative diversity of the students that are at UMB and the amount of communication, both nationally and internationally, the staff of UMB deserves, perhaps, even more consideration than the average university's administration.

Many of our students are of international origin, our staff patiently and cooperatively puts forth their most passionate efforts to help us all individually and as a collegiate community. For that, we should thank them. In this section we have dedicated pages to the men and women that constitute our administration. On behalf of the yearbook staff and the students at UMB, Thank You!

Student Employment and Housing

CHARLES PULS: THE DIRECTOR OF STUDENT EMPLOYMENT AND HOUSING

The referrals and connections that we made with job and housing opportunities could not have been made with such ease and accuracy, if not for the men and women that make up the Student Housing and Employment Office. Many thanks are owed to all those who helped us make a tiring job that much easier.

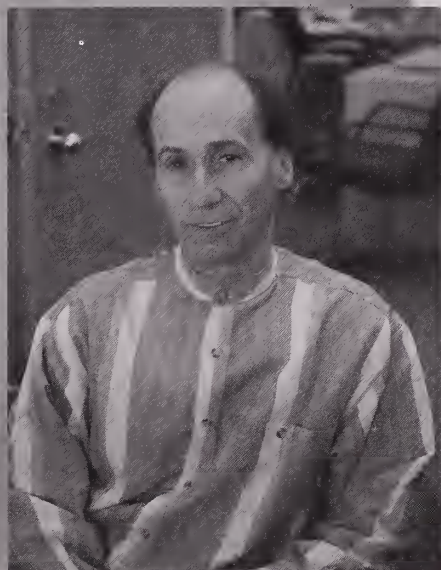

Joseph P. Healey Library

The staff of the Joseph P. Healey Library was especially crucial in the everyday life of the student body. The scholastic and intellectual development and progress of the students on campus was, naturally, dependent upon the wealth of information that humanity has accumulated over the course of human history. At the Healey library there are more than nine floors of information stored in a manner that makes a plethora of information easily referenced and convenient to find. The staff is owed a huge 'thank you' for their services to not only the students, but also the teachers, for the ability to grow ourselves as a race, a human race in the amazing path that is evolution.

Office of the Registrar

THE REGISTRAR: DAVID CESARIO

CARLA CAMILLO AND FRED SMITH TAKE TIME OUT TO POSE.

Of course, we all need to acknowledge the office of the Registrar. For obvious reasons, this was an essential aspect of our administration. We all have witnessed the amount of chaos present in this office during the add/drop period at the start of every semester, and for tolerating this we thank the registrar's office.

Department of Public Safety

SARGENT LONNIE HILL REVIEWS PAST REPORTS DURING AN INVESTIGATION.

PATROLMAN JOHN QUINN PLAYS SANTA CLAUS FOR CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

Here, at UMB, we were fortunate to have a collegiate community that had enough responsibility to behave in a manner that did not require the Campus police to be overworked. However, after this year's incident with a "cyber-stalker", we remember just how neccessary this aspect of the administration was. They were kind, courteous and above all they watched out for our safety as a community, even when we didn't remember to.

Office of Financial Aid

THE DIRECTOR OF FINANCIAL AID: ERNESTINE WHITING-SETTLES

THE WONDERFUL PEOPLE WHO GAVE US MONEY.

This was the office that all of us hoped to hear from the most. As we climb the ladder of society and education, there are commitments beyond time and energy, there is the financial aspect of our education as well. However, through legislation, finance and donations, many of us went to school and paid for, at least some of, it later. This office was one of the most overworked offices in the administration, and for that we say 'Thank You!'

Advising

JOHN APPLEDEE AND ASSOCIATES SMILE AS THEY WORK THROUGH THEIR DAY

The advising center was the office on campus that students were most apt to utilize. Here, the right questions, followed by the right answers, allowed students to maximize their time and money at the institution of UMB. The advisors took on thousands of students every semester, focusing on them as individuals, to best help them meet their goals, both personally and academically.

29

Mass Media

ANTON KRESS, MICHAEL RUIJS, KATY MARTTILA, MIKE STONE, KRISTINA JONES, JOSHUA MELLO.

While at UMB, we took pride in our media program. The Mass Media produced a professional, elegant, informative newspaper, once a week, that kept us all informed as to the goings on around campus. Their opinion section and political cartoons allowed a great medium for students to productively express themselves, while addressing the issues that were important to them.

THE STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate provided extraordinary students with the opportunity to apply their talents and develop their leadership experience. These students help the administration make difficult decisions, investigate situations and provide insight on the ground level. The school owes a great deal of thanks to all the senators and the Trustee for their participation and selfless dedication. We hope that these people will succeed with their experience in hand and that their potential employers recognize their accomplishments.

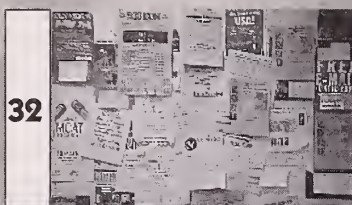

Harbor Art Gallery

The Harbor Art Gallery was an aspect of UMB that offered students an advantage over many other collegiate facilities. The opportunity to view the evolution of modern art and to absorb the influence of modern artists helped keep our Arts department producing original ideas. The gallery used their space efficiently to provide entertainment and recreation to the campus life.

The Wit's End Cafe'

TOM BEARD, GWEN MACKAY, LINDA LAM, JOE MOSER, BILLY INDRIANO, DANIELLE ARCHER, MARK CAPRANO, JANE VINANS

THE WIT'S END WAS A RELAXING OASIS OF INTELLIGENTIALISM INSIDE THE CAMPUS AT LIMB. THERE, COFFEE AND TEA WAS SERVED WHILE ANY NUMBER OF A VARIETY OF MUSIC PLAYED OVERHEAD. THE OPEN-AIR COURTYARD ALLOWED STUDENTS TO HAVE A SOCIAL PLACE TO GATHER AND CONVERSE ON THE CURRENT SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES, OR JUST HAVE A SMOKE. THE WIT'S END WAS ONE OF OUR FAVORITE PLACES TO GO, AND IT WAS SOLEY BECAUSE OF THE QUALITY OF POEPLER THAT MADE UP THE STAFF AT THIS STUDENT RUN CAFE.

Student Life

JASON CAMPUS. JOYCE MORGAN MARY KIRKPATRICK CHRIS CHADWELL DONNA NEAL
BOB COLE TACEY CLEMENTS

The Office of Student Life was the "heartbeat" of our campus. This was the place where students purchased discounted tickets to area venues and found almost any and all answers they needed. On the fourth floor in Wheatley, the epicenter for all student organizations, helped this commuter campus achieve the level of community that it did. Both Joyce Morgan and Donna Neal played significant roles in all the student's lives that were active on this floor. "Thank you" isn't even close enough to show our appreciation.

The Wellness Center

STEPHEN HAMM SHARES THE WELLNESS OF HIS BEING.

JOEL CROSSMAN, DIRECTOR OF HEALTH PROMOTION, AND HIS ASSOCIATE.

The Wellness Center offered students a tremendous variety of healthy, supportive, therapeutic activities that helped one to stay together mentally, physically and emotionally. This center offered everything from smoke cessation assistance to yoga and meditation sessions. Some of the happiest people on campus came from this center and after attending just one or two of their programs, it was not difficult to see why.

The Beacon Fitness Center

Debra, Drew, Nicole, T.J., and Hasan

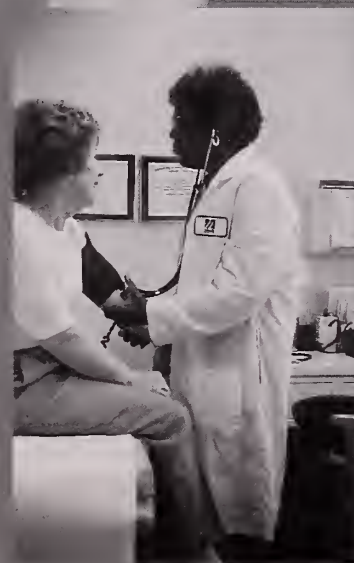

The Beacon Fitness Center was the students' personal gym. The fees, included with the cost of tuition, allowed students to utilize the latest cardiovascular equipment, free weights, and a ton of isometric equipment designed for sculpting and carving one's physique. The friendly staff helped the students with their exercises and ensured the reasonable safety of the people working out. Many students found the racquetball courts and aerobic classes to be a great way to "unwind".

Health Services

DONNA FREDRICO, CAROLINE WEHNER, GOLDIE LENGEL, CHARLOTTE HERRING, LORRAINE KELLY, MISSY WESTHAVER, SHEILA AUSTIN, AND BARBARA INSKEEP

When the word "convenience" is used people should instantly affiliate it with the Student Health Services. These services allowed students to receive immunizations, check-ups, and even bloodwork while in the course of their daily events. The staff at the Health Services office were gracious and warm while we visited. we couldn't help but assume it is what makes them not only do, but also good at, their jobs.

Undergraduate Admissions

DIRECTOR LILLIAN MICKLES

The office of Undergraduate Admissions did a great job of keeping the students in touch with their schedules. Between touch-tone registration, on-line updates and copious amounts of communication the office made it fun and easy to register.

Reader:

I tried to find an area in the yearbook to truly thank a few select people who have made a world of difference and this seemed as good a place as any.

Thanks need to be given to, first of all, Ms Donna Neal. This is a woman who works and lives with all of us. Donna, as anyone who has worked with her knows, is a professional, caring sensitive, human being that keeps the office of student life in tact. Her name is synonymous with help, campus wide. Donna's ability to go beyond the job description and bring what she offers to UMass Boston is what makes her who she is and what she is, an accreditation to this institution. Thank you, Donna.

Additionally, I would like to thank a young lady who has carried this yearbook program. Half way through this year, Maya ~~XXXX~~ walked into a yearbook office and asked for a photography job, she got it, excelled at it and became photo-editor. Maya was the only consistent, reliable, responsible staff member that worked here. Her dedication and commitment to the yearbook, not the office, me, or her superiors is what has allowed you, the reader to hold this book in your hand. Maya deserves a ton of gratitude and in my eyes has it.

I would like to thank UMass for providing us with the funding to have a legitimate program that benefits all the students and faculty. Sincerely,

Christopher L Garner, Editor

Dean of Nursing

Dr. Brenda S. Cherry, RN, Dean, College of Nursing.

Dear College of Nursing Graduates,

Congratulations on achieving a significant educational goal! This accomplishment places you among a select group who comprise the leadership pool for the new millennium. The leadership, critical thinking, analytical, communication, interpersonal, and clinical skills you have demonstrated should serve as a strong foundation for practice and continuous professional development. When guided by ethics and professional standards these abilities will serve you well in any endeavor.

I hope your experiences here at UMB have not only prepared you to be an effective and confident practitioner in Nursing or Human Performance and Fitness, but enhanced your preparation as a citizen and community leader. The social issues that influence quality of life must be addressed by competent and caring citizens who value human diversity and respect the worth of every individual. These should be among the many attributes you offer the professional and greater community.

As you graduate and continually discover the value of your educational accomplishments here at UMB, you will also find that you are an ambassador to the College of Nursing and University. As an alumni you will be called upon to support the College of Nursing in numerous ways, from serving as a preceptor or member of advisory committees to contributing to the annual fund. I hope that you will respond positively to these requests.

Our quality as an educational institute is judged by the quality of our graduates. Your accomplishments and successes are pursuit of your goals.

Sincerely,
Brenda S. Cherry, PhD, RN
Dean, College of Nursing

Dean of College and Community Services

Dean of CPCS Ismael Ramirez Soto, Ph.D.

I extend my congratulations to the 1999 graduates of the College of Public and Community Service on a job well done. I know it has not always been easy, but you have done it and done it well. I commend you.

CPCS has always distinguished itself in its commitment to education with a purpose: education that not only betters us, but puts skills and knowledge to work to improve our communities and our society. Now that you have accomplished the goal of getting your degree, I challenge you to put your competence to work in your communities, your workplaces, your organizations and in your relations with others. I challenge you to continue to explore, question, analyze, debate and advocate.

You see, graduation does not mean your work is over – that is why it's called commencement. It is just the beginning. The most value in your degree will come not from hanging it in your living room or office and watching it collect dust, but by putting it into action. It will come by using and building the skills you have developed to improve communities and work for social justice.

As you do so, you will be ambassadors for the College. You will help to carry the values of the College to a broader community and to further our mission of education for empowerment and social change.

My best to you all in the challenges ahead.

Spring Events

The Islamic Society

Karim Serageldin, a Umass student, hosted the educational and social event for the Islamic Society this spring.

As Kate O'Brien hands Donna Neal, their advisor, her certificate of gratitude (above right) they smiled in knowing that they had done an excellent job and that this precedent would 'raised the bar' for the publishers-to-be of tomorrow. We at the yearbook had the pleasure of sharing the office with the staff of The Watermark. The pains they took to ensure accurate and fair judging were more complex than meets the eye, and the even down to the last minute of the publishing deadline Sam Palmer and Kendra Fitzgerald (below) were busy reading and re-reading the text to spot any missed errors.

As the next years move forward Sam and Kendra will be editing The Watermark, cooperatively, and we know that in 2000 the visiblitiy of progress was evident. On behalf of all the students and faculty, thanks to The Watermark and all the unmentioned staff/ readers that made this publication possible for our campus community.

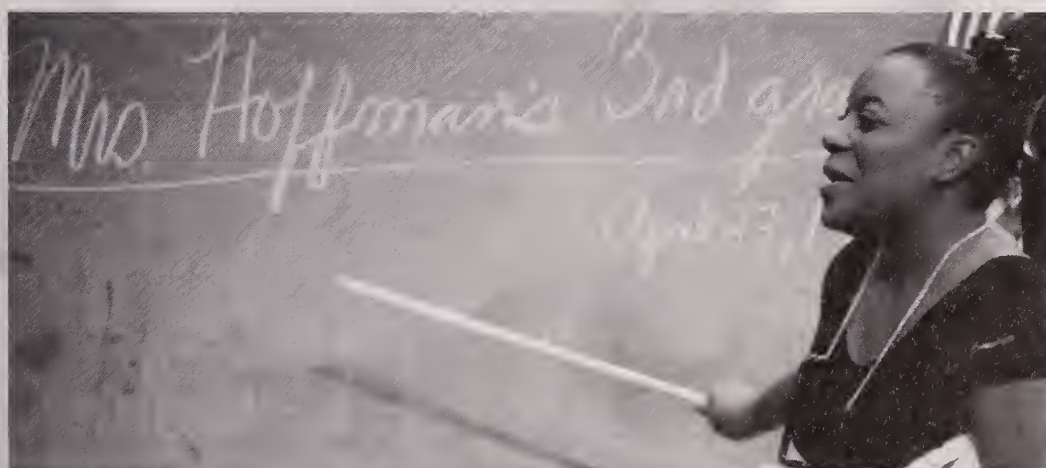

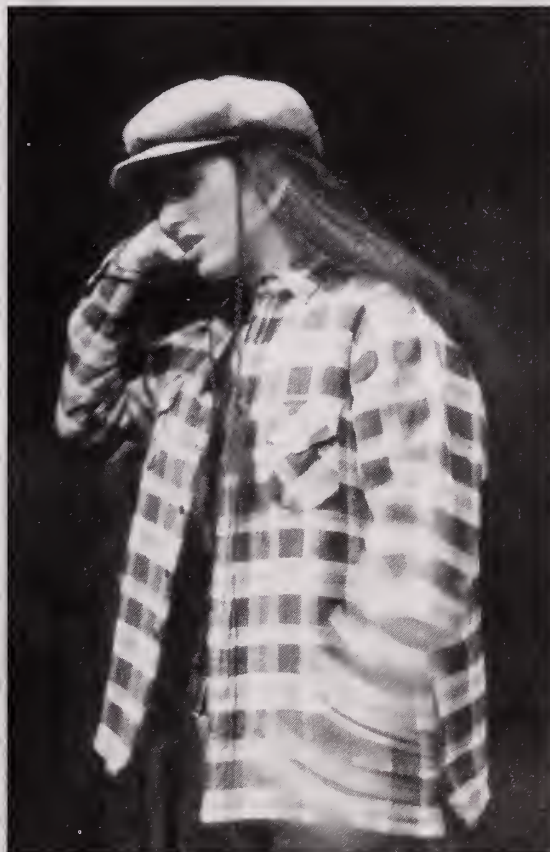

WOMEN + MEN AT WORK

The producers and performers of this play illustrated the social, economical and political changes and trends that became a piece of America's history as women became/ become liberated in society . They accomplished this with impressive dialog, accurate depictions of real life and a dramatic flare that made this depiction seem alive within the walls of it's action.

KRS-One

This spring, Umass Boston was privileged in having the well-known and well-respected artist and activist KRS-One come to our campus and speak to our community. Krs-One is noted as one of the most musically, socially, politically, and educationally influential people of contemporary music.

His message was one of uncommon discussion. He urged the audience to realize the significance of/need for role models in our society, specifically within the urban community. Specifically he called for the use of hip-hop culture and music to help the community reach each other in a way that he called "spirituality". His call for a sense of enlightenment in society was refreshing. His conviction and passion evoked emotion and spirit in the audience.

KRS-One is extremely active in urban education and social programs. Let him serve as an example to all of us that giving back to our communities is an obligation that should be met as early as possible. Personal success is not the end of our journeys, it provides the freedom to act as we all should want to: attempt to leave this planet in some way better than we found it.

Student Leadership Awards

The Student Leadership Awards were an annual part of the academic year. On these ceremonies those students whom are selected by the faculty receive recognition for their leadership roles in and out of the classroom. To win this award is an honor and a gesture of respect, from the people it means the most, the ones whom we look up to.

Duncan Nelson (in both pictures above), an English professor known for his wit and humor, hosted these presentations and made a great time into a better one. He awarded Donald Gale (upper left), Shana Dew (upper right), and Maria Diaz (below) with one of our highest awards. These students are assuredly going to continue leading their peers and we at Umass are proud to say we scholared with them.

Student Senate Elections

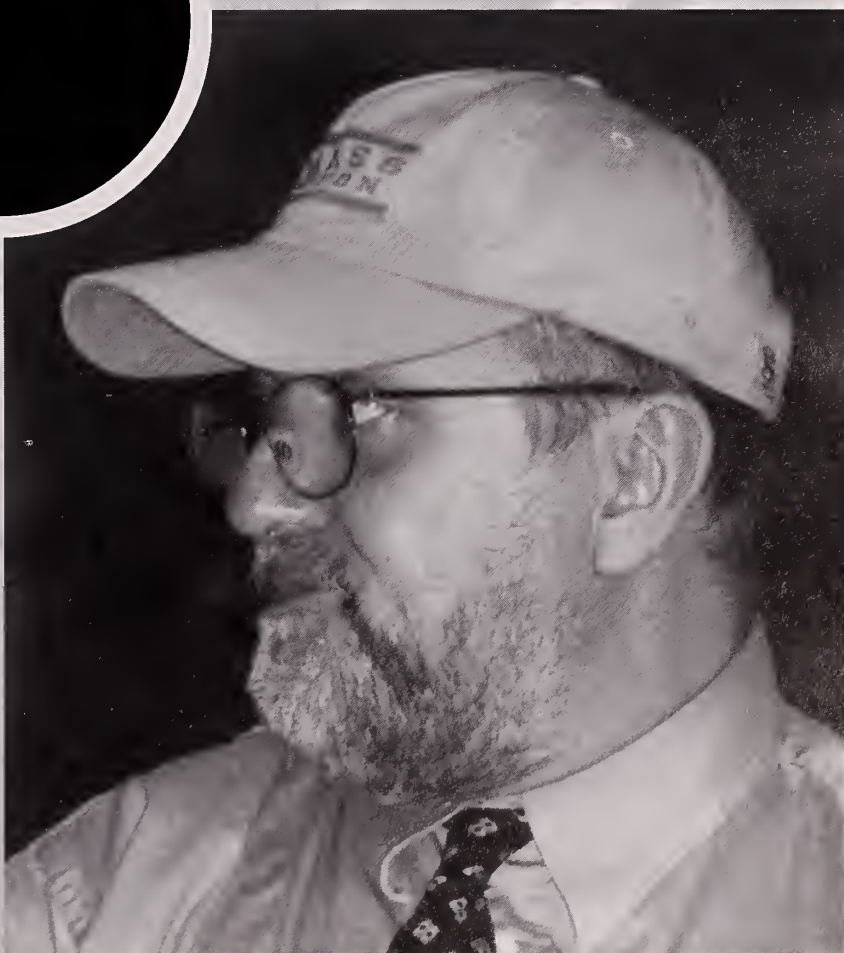

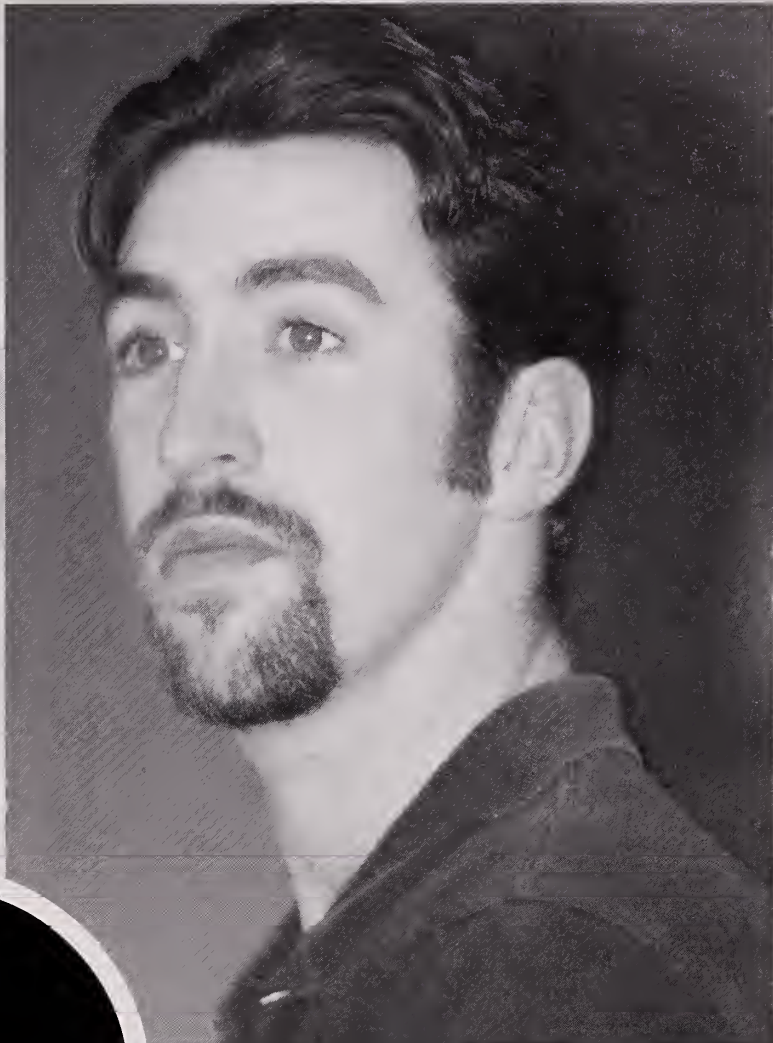

As the year came to a close it became time for the infamous run-offs. Student leaders trying to hold their aquired positions in the face of up-and-coming leaders. This year's senate was not overly competitive as a majority of senators were graduating.

The elected officers of the 2000-2001 Student Senate were (below) Angela Tragos as president, Matt Cole as vice president, (opposite page lower left moving clockwise) Sandy Karahalís as trustee, Charles Carroll as the Chair of Budget and Finance Committee, Christopher Garner as Chair of Campus and Community Affairs, and Michael Gervais as the Chair of the Student Events and Organizations Council.

Judy Sheppard

Judy was a honored guest at UMB this spring. She came to our school as a special guest, funded by both the Queer Student Union and Student Trustee's Office. Judy's story is not one of success, fame or enlightenment. Her story is one of heartache and violence.

Some people die because they're old, some die because they're sick, her son died because he was gay. His peers attacked and killed him. Now Judy spends her time touring the country and speaking out on behalf of gay awareness, specifically teen gay awareness. Gay teenagers battling their identities is the number one cause for suicide in America.

Judy made us all realize that this fact is one that exists because of the society we create. Our actions can and will change that fact. We would like to thank the QSU and the Trustee's office for this excellent glimpse into the reality of so many American families. Most importantly we would like to thank Judy for her heart-tugging, honest and courageous efforts to ammend this appearant intolerance in our culture.

Commencement

THE DOCTORAL PROGRAM
HAD SEVERAL CANDIDATES
THIS YEAR, THEY ARE FEATURED
SHOT. WHILE THE
GENTLEMAN TO THE RIGHT
SEEMED TO HAVE AN ACTING CAREER AHEAD OF HIM.

EVERY YEAR UNIVERSITIES ALL OVER THE COUNTRY AWARD HONORARY DEGREES TO PEOPLE THAT THEY FEEL REPRESENT AN EXAMPLE OF SOMEONE OR SOMETHING THAT GRADUATING STUDENTS SHOULD STRIVE TO DO OR BE. THIS YEAR ROBERT DURAND (UPPER LEFT) WAS AWARDED FOR HIS CRUCIAL ROLE IN ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION THROUGH THE MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATION. LAWRENCE FISH (ABOVE RIGHT) WAS SELECTED AS AN HONORARY MEMBER BASED ON HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN THE WORLD AT LARGE. HE HAS AN EXTENSIVE BACKGROUND, TOO LARGE TO LIST, IN FINANCES AND HAS ALWAYS TAKEN HIS KNOWLEDGE OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS TO PLACES THAT SERVE THE PUBLIC, FROM UNIVERSITIES TO SCHOOLS TO BANKS, TO THE BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

ON THE OPPOSITE PAGE ARE (FROM RIGHT TO LEFT) ROBERT GLASSMAN, RECOGNIZED FOR HIS OUTREACH TO POVERTY AND AIDS STRICKEN PEOPLE, RAYMOND ALEXANDER HAMMOND II, RECOGNIZED FOR HIS ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN BUSINESS AS WELL AS MEDICINE AND RELIGIOUS OUTREACH AND ORGANIZATION. FINALLY, THE TWO LADIES PICTURED ARE ROSA TARLOVSKY DE ROISINBLIT AND ESTELA BARNES DE CARLOTTO RECOGNIZED FOR THEIR EFFORTS TO FIND AND RETURN KIDNAPPED CHILDREN THAT DISAPPEARED DURING POLITICAL TURMOIL IN ARGENTINA (1976-1983). THEIR ORGANIZATION IS LA ASOCIACION ABUELAS DE PLAZA DE MAYO. (THE GRANDMOTHERS OF THE PLAZA DE MAYO ASSOCIATION).

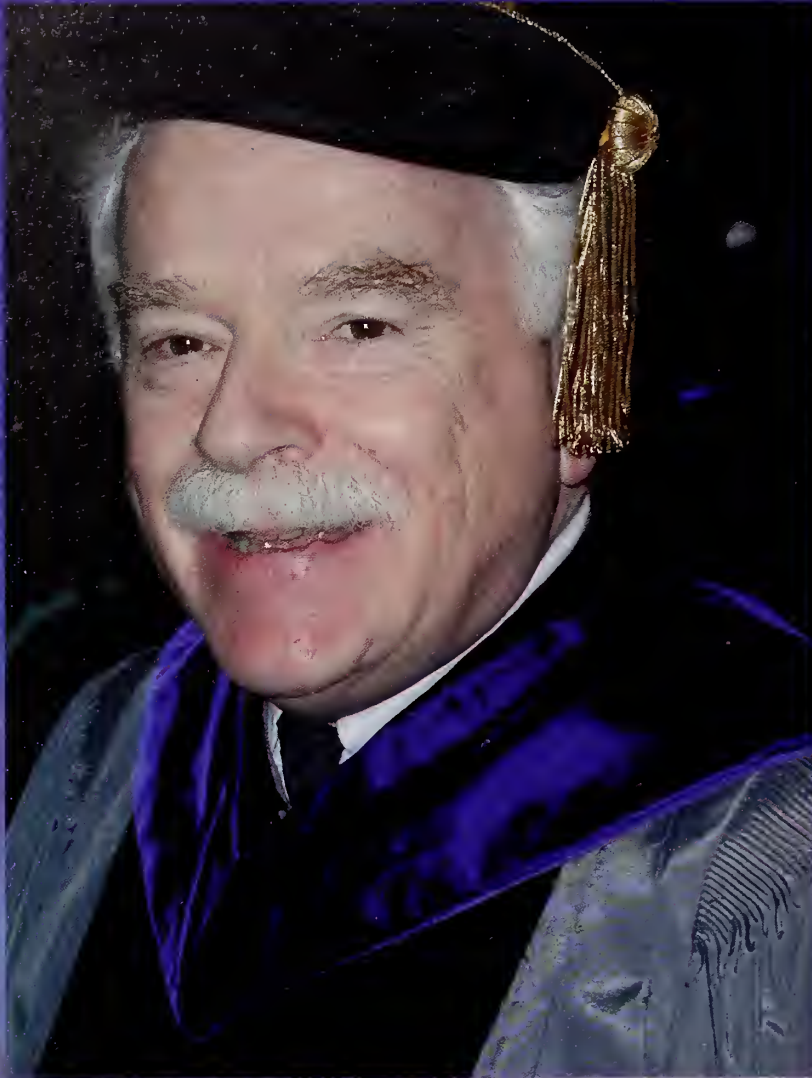

WE AT THE YEARBOOK THANK THESE PEOPLE ON BEHALF OF THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY FOR ALL THEIR COURAGEOUS WORK AND SELFLESS GIVING ON WHICH WE ALL DEPEND.

SPEAKERS INCLUDED (ABOVE, FROM LEFT TO RIGHT IN A CLOCKWISE FASHION) PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS, WILLIAM BULGER, STUDENT Elected TRUSTEE, EDWIN ROGERS AND CHANCELLOR SHERRY PENNY. THIS WAS A SPECIAL DAY FOR ED, HE WAS ONE OF ONLY A SELECT FEW STUDENTS TO GRADUATE AS A TRUSTEE, THE HIGHEST POSITION AVAILABLE IN THE CAMPUS. THANKS TO ALL OF THEM, ESPECIALLY ED.

The University Mace

Symbols of authority and power, maces were originally hand weapons designed for use against armor. Topped by the flame of knowledge, the University mace has the University seal as a focal point and unifying element. Tassels of maroon and white hang from the shaft of fourteen rods of black walnut, symbolizing the fourteen counties of the Commonwealth.

The head of the mace is gold plate over highly polished brass. Complex curves radiating from the hub in which the seal is centered reflect light in constantly changing patterns, symbolic of the many-faceted environment of the university life.

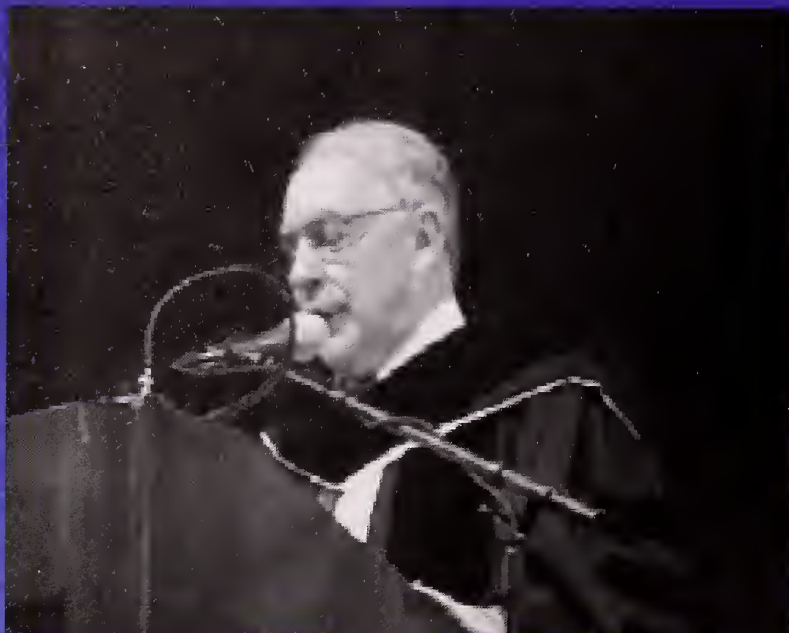

THE CLASSIC GRADUATION THEME PLAYED LOUDLY BY THE ORCHESTRA ABOVE, BUT THE ORIGINAL AND EXCITING ASPECT OF THE CEREMONIES AUDIBLE PLEASURE WAS PROVIDED BY CHRISTINA E. DEVAUGHN. SHE HERSELF IS AN ALUMNAE, GRADUATING IN 1999.

HER RENDITION OF THE NATIONAL ANTHEM INSPIRED ALMOST AS MUCH AWE AS THE IDEAS OF POSSIBLE FUTURES FOR OUR GRADUATES.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS AT BOSTON DOES NOT HAVE A VLADICTORIAN. INSTEAD A MORE COMPREHENSIVE PROCESS IS UNDERGOING, INCLUDING INTERVIEWS, ESSAYS, AND, OF COURSE, THE REVIEW OF SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT. THE AWARD IS CALLED THE JOHN F. KENNEDY AWARD AND IT IS THE SINGLE, HIGHEST HONOR THAT A GRADUATING STUDENT CAN RECEIVE.

THIS YEAR'S RECIPIENT WAS COLIN S. WARD. HE SPOKE TO HIS GRADUATING PEERS WITH DIGNITY, FORESIGHT, WISDOM, AND, NOT IRONICALLY, PROPER GRAMMAR. HE IS A PERSON THAT WORKED THROUGH HIS FOUR YEARS WHILE WORKING PART AND FULL TIME. HE WAS AN INSPIRATION TO THE UNDERCLASSMAN, AT LEAST THIS ONE, IN HOPES OF WHAT CAN BE DONE WHEN YOU DO YOUR BEST.
